got into Shanghai. I stayed at the boarding house for three days on time I spent looking for my cousin named Huang Ding () who lived at Tuh An Li, Route ix, French Concession. It took me three days to find him and as soon as I found his home I went to his address. After about 3 weeks my cousin found work as a chauffeur for a lawyer named Wang () of 99 Fochow Road.
I was dismissed from this post after three months went on account of ignorance of the streets in Shanghai.
This was on Feb. 25, 1933. On leaving the employment of Mr. Wang, I went to live at 118 Dong with me in Shanghai. I remained at this address till February 13, 1934 when I moved to my present address.

During the period of my unemployment I was sent certain funds by my father as I had appealed for financial assistance owing to my lack of work. In February as I found my funds were sufficient to support both my wife is now living. I am not a Communist or have I ever

Clerk Liao.

My name is Tsang Ching Tuh, native of Shantung, age 17, married. I am living at No. 119 Ching Yuen Li, Carter Road. I am by profession a chauffeur, but at present I am unemployed. I am able to read and write, having received my education at the Foo Lung School (扶輪) in Singyang, Honan, where I started studying at the age of 8, and continued as a student ~~until~~ till I was 16, when I left school. On leaving school I obtained work as apprentice in the Hanyang Arsenal, Hongkong, Kweichow, where I remained for three years when I left this place. I then became a mechanic on the Peking-Hankow Railway at Chenchow in Honan. I was employed on this railway for 4 years after which owing to sickness, I had to hand in my resignation. On the termination of my employment I returned to Singyang ^{my} to father's home. My father was an overseer in a ~~forestry~~ FOREST PRESERVE of the Peking-Hankow Railway in Singyang. I remained convalescing at my father's home for 1 year, and then started to help my father in his business, and remained as his assistant for about two years. I left Singyang and came to Shanghai in June, 1933. My reason for coming to Shanghai was to look for work. I reached Shanghai towards the end of June, but cannot remember the exact date. I travelled all the way by train. On arriving at the North Station, I went straight to a small boarding house on Foochow Road to which I was directed by one of the tenants of that establishment.
